DOCKET NO. 2020-125-E

REQUEST NO. 1-8:

“Energy burden” is defined as the percentage of household income expended on energy costs (including electricity and gas). Does DESC collect data regarding energy burden for customers in its service territory? If so, please describe with detail and specificity the type of information that DESC collects and the purposes for which it is used.

RESPONSE NO. 1-8:

No. The Company does not collect energy burden data within its service territory.
